

CMFRI gives assist to Andaman and Nicobar Islands for knowledge assortment of marine fish catch

Kochi. The ICAR-Central Marine Fisheries Research Institute (CMFRI) has prolonged assistance to Andaman and Nicobar Islands to launch on-line knowledge assortment of marine fish catch at fish touchdown centres within the archipelago. The info assortment was formally launched on Wednesday after the signing of a memorandum of understanding (MoU) between the CMFRI and the Division of Fisheries of the Andaman and Nicobar Administration.

A communication mentioned as a part of the MoU, the CMFRI launched its sampling methodology for evaluation of catch knowledge utilizing fish catch survey and evaluation software program. The institute has additionally educated enumerators deployed by the Andaman Administration to gather catch knowledge utilizing CMFRI methodology. That is the primary time marine fish catch knowledge is being collected from the archipelago with statistically supported software program.